Kaizen Team Invite

Follow these simple guidelines to build an effective improvement team that will base their improvements on the reality of the current situation, but dare to be bold and strive for breakthrough achievements!

- Personally approach each invitee and tell them why you want them on the event.
- Follow-up with written invite from Continuous Improvement office.
- Use the Sponsor to break barriers on securing key team members.
- If a prospective team member must disengage from the team for an hour, that can be accepted. If they need to leave for half a day, select another team member.
