
Standard Work Audit

Do you have a structured audit process of standard work? We have found the audit process to be just as valuable and necessary as the standard work itself. The audit provides an opportunity to:

- Sustain the gains of previous improvements
- Coaching opportunity
- Auditer will see and learn the process
- Improve the standard work

So whenever you develop standard work, immediately begin thinking about how will I audit this standard work? Who will do it, how frequently, and what are the key points to audits?

Have a topic idea? Submit to idea@ruckerassociates.com